  - b. breaking routes,
  - c. pick routes.
2. Nobody in the middle of the field - deep post route.

- Our project tests quarterbacks on how well they can understand defensive coverages.
- It helps them improve their game by letting them see what coverage a defense is running. It then quizzes the quarterback on their knowledge of the game and allows them to choose a play to run based on the coverage they are playing against.
- This is a very important concept that all quarterback need to be good at, so with the help of our test it allows them to understand coverages better. Which then helps quarterbacks with gametime decisions and call an audible if needed.
- Once you have completed the test it will then output a grade to let the quarterback know how well they did.
- The objective of our project is to get quarterbacks more comfortable on the field.

List of plays the quarterback can choose from:
